Autumn's breezes tease me, Her vibrant colors please me The sights, the smells, the sounds all shout of the life that abounds. The falling leaves, the cloudy days signal the dying year in many small ways.
Live for today! says the poet, and I agree. Tomorrow's snows and tomorrow's woes are not for this day and I am free to enjoy the delights of a year's death-throes.

Homecoming Reception

John Biggs Performs at MC

John Biggs, a singer-guitarist who plays a blend of folk, bluegrass, and country music, performed at 6:00 p.m. on the Terrace of Hewes Library on October 17, 1980.

The performance was sponsored by CAB and was open to the public. Biggs began his stage career in a truckstop near Randolph, Kansas, at the age of 14, and he has spent the five years since his college graduation performing full-time. He has been particularly well-received on college and university campuses, and his tours have taken him throughout the United States and to Western Europe. Biggs has also toured with various recording acts, including such nationally-known performers as Waylon Jennings, B.W. Stevenson, Michael Murphy, Anne Murray, Dave Loggins and the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band.

"I want this one!"

You didn't want your ear anyway, did you?

If only my friends could see me now!

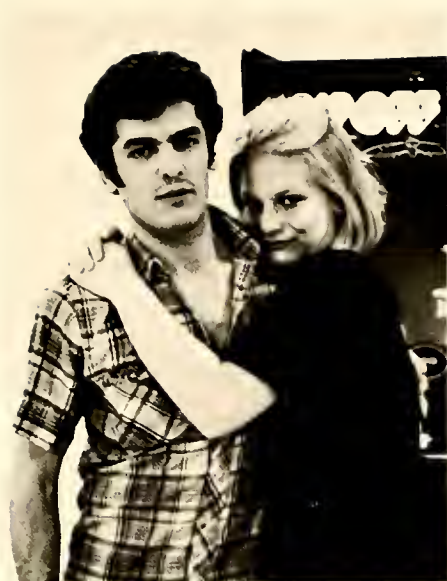

Cleopatra II?

Sharon Edwards manages a smile even when others are in tears.

1 . . . 2 . . . 3 . . . pull!

Lisa Martin and Amine Marcel Nasr show what college is REALLY all about.

I believe in peanut butter! (It's the only thing that gets me through breakfast, lunch, and dinner.)

Caught you, Paul.

The characters of Winbigler Hall strike again.

Where's the finish line.

Smile, Becky, you're on Candid Camera.

Kim Waters and Aziz are "good friends".

Diane Freeman and Roulla Habib share their beauty tips with the world.

Now what?

Bob Green has Roxanne on his mind.

Next time we use the car.

Monmouth is seen in all directions.

Don't you ever interrupt me in the middle of a speech!

NO! Don't throw them out, I haven't had mine yet!

A student hangs her head after taking a test.

Senior Sue Crawford prepares to bombard Roxanne Velasquez with a snowball.

Brad Clark—what a stud!

Joe Kady, Erin McKee, Joe Maalouf, and Jane Stevens enjoy each other's company.

The Kappas do their good deed for the day.

This looks like an Esther class!

Help—health check is in five minutes!

Dan Mitchell doesn't know that we're watching.

The pinball wizard.

Girls—eat your heart out!

Terri Pieper

"Looking good!"

The Three Stooges, revised.

Beneath all those blue jeans, Monmouth girls actually DO have bodies!

Dan Mitchell watches the old reliable television.

Cindy Giller

The ZBT's and KD's sing their way to victory!

Some people go out of their way to annoy the profs.

The candied camera strikes again!

Bathing Beauties

Don't open till Christmas.

Don't look now, Judy, but you're being followed!

WOW!

Kim Waters is a HAM for pictures!

Kim Kelly gives one of her smiles that could melt an iceberg.

Kelly Lynch poses for a picture.

Cecile takes a flying leap.

Which song did that guy want??

Kevin and Dan show us even studs take it easy once in a while.

Cindy Albers works on her computer assignment.

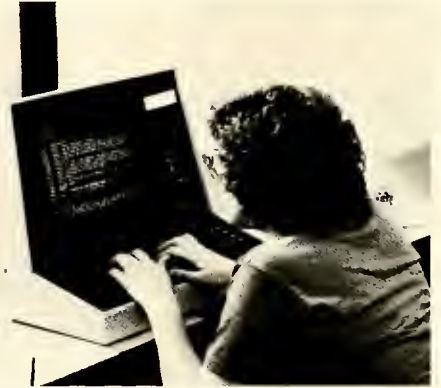

Jay Hollingsworth escorts Queen Tammy Caffrey to the football game.

Eating again, Mary Dorch?

Students like to wear as little as possible.

Laurie Sauer asks—"Did I do that?"

Another dismal dinner!

Kevin Kutta and Sue Smaus.

What do freshmen know about studying anyway?

Every Science major's nightmare

Rob Dyni and friend working hard.

ATO's party on the patio . . . AND the front lawn.

A nice quiet place to study.

Smile, Pete!

Brad Smith wonders why he ever got involved with photo lab.

Kathy Eaves and friend intensely involved in "General Hospital".

Gerri Miller poses for the famous Redbook picture.

Martie Eckard lurks the halls of McMike.

The mysterious teddy bear snatcher strikes again!

Rhonda Correll shows us her million dollar smile.

Donna Montiero hides as Kim Waters and Wendy Harbath pull her into the picture.

After the library, students eyes are never the same.

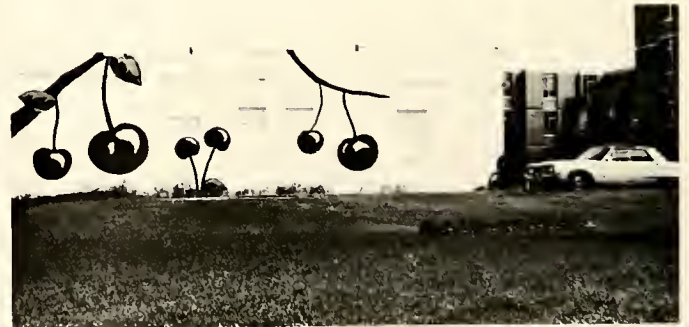

What a bunch of THUGS!

Take five everyone!

Oh No! Here comes Brad. His moustache tickles.

Cherry Blossom road.

Help, where am I, I'm lost!!

With the clocks on this campus the students have a reason to be late.

Andy to the rescue.

Alright, who put liquor in his Mr. Pibb?

The library is used by many.

What a sight!

Really? You don't say now.

Don't smile too big now guys the camera will break.

"What do you mean-you can't find the account number?"

Where did you say you learned how to cook Marty?

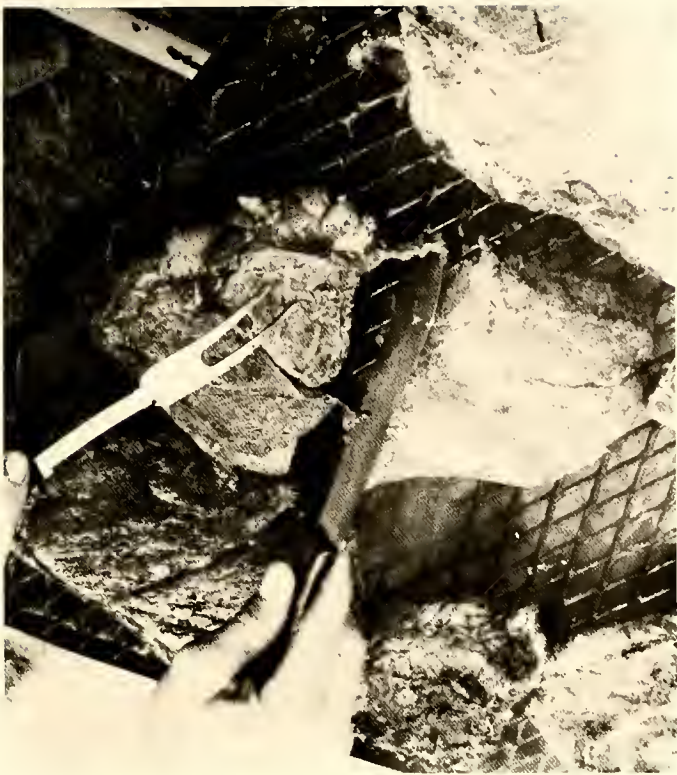

Really guys-is it that funny?

Where's the secret surprise?

Why doesn't the food service cook like this?

The amazing George Van Hagen.

Liz Kise finds relief at the pop machine.

Doesn't it always seem like someone takes a picture while you're eating?

"I paid to eat this?"

Jay Davis hopes that if he hides under his towel long enough his food will go away.

It's not really all THAT bad!

Mary Flaut decides that she's too hungry to ask what she's eating.

There's nothing like a happy smile to meet you at the door!

Editors Note:

I would like to apologize to everyone for getting this book out so late. I encountered every problem in the book—and then some, including a lack of pictures and having our office flood twice.

I would also like to apologize for not printing the names of people in the organizations, but our photographers forgot to get people's names when they took the pictures. It would take another term just to name everyone.

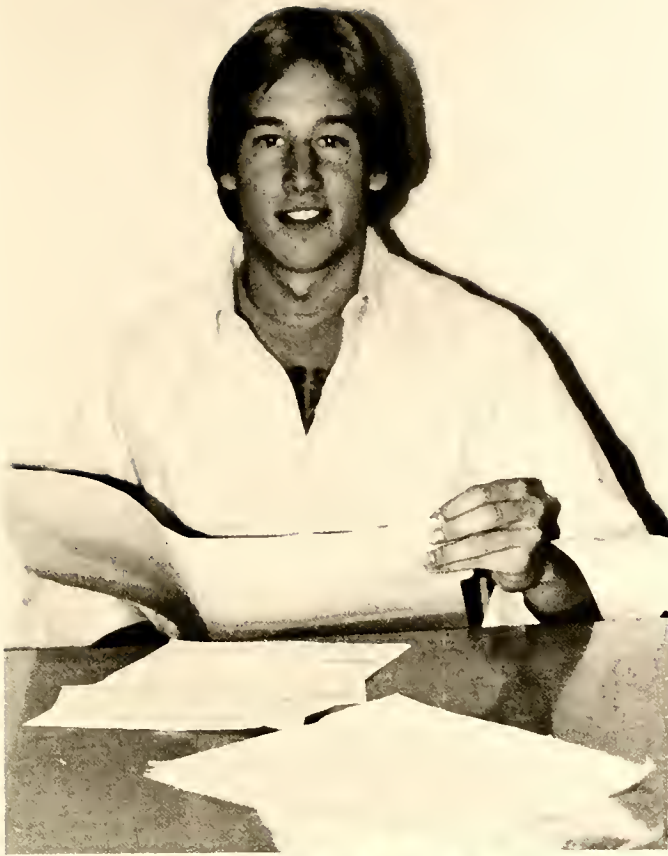

I would like to thank my staff: Sandy Macy, Theresa Revellas, Wendy Harbath, Linda Hilst, Jayne Weaver, Dale Stimpson, Dawn Dombrowski, and an honorary member—my sister Rachelle who put in many hours this summer laying out pages. I would also like to thank photographers Brad Smith, Greg Phillips, Trang Johnson, Leo Bernardi, Randy Hudson, Katie Barbosa, Linda Hilst, Eric Landrom, Mary Flautt, and P.I.

See you next year!

Kevin Kutta,
Editor

Student Association DAWN OF A DECADE

"Lessons are not given, they are taken," wrote Cesare Pavese. The Student Association took it on the chin.

Through budget deficits never seen before and personnel with no experience before, the Student Association functioned admirably. The past decade witnessed S.A. crumble from the students bargaining force to a group of fools among kaos. The association could barely muster up enough strength to hold bi-weekly meetings—let alone solve problems.

This year saw a tightening of organizational structure, financial policy, and increased student involvement. Spectacular involvement from a spectrum of students accelerated the Association and the pragmatic attitude ignited to fuel it to a new dawn. "The Dawning of a Decade" is here to stay.
